

Natalia Habor, Natalia Babalyk
Ivan Franko Lviv National University Ukraine
bandrivska@yahoo.com

Short-term grant, 1999

Development of Gender Studies Course at the Lviv National University

Short-term grant was used particularly for the preparing and implementing of the Gender Studies Courses for MA students of Lviv National University. In spring semester one of such courses has been implemented into curriculum of the MA program. Some Visiting Professors participated in lectures and seminars in framework of this course. At the same time the short-term grant made possible the formation of a small library on a gender studies issues as well as visits to Warsaw and Kyiv with purpose to make acquaintance with courses implemented at Warsaw University and National University "Kyiv-Mohyla Academy". Another special course "Woman and mass-media" will be implemented into the MA curriculum of Journalism Department on fall semester. This summer a lot of MA students, which attended the spring semester course on gender studies, have successfully applied for International Summer Schools on gender studies.

The second part of the project was oriented on preparing of the anthology Woman. Time. Society. The preparing of this anthology is on final stage. Organizers of project are trying to find financial support for the edition of the anthology.

It is planned that all newly designed and implemented courses on gender studies and all information connected with them will be located on Web-site of Lviv National University.